Dynamic Advertising and Design puts friends first

Galloway, NJ – Dynamic Advertising and Design launched a website www.felstockton.com for the Friends of Encore Learning at Stockton (FELS).

FELS is affiliated with the Stockton College Foundation. They are a volunteer, not-for-profit association, whose mission is the provision of unique opportunities for lifelong learning and continuing education for its members. FELS fundraising efforts provide annual scholarship monies to Stockton students.

Dynamic Advertising and Design has excelled their skill in Joomla and CMS to provide not only an informative website, but one that serves as the organizations main registration tool. Using several Joomla components, FELS members can read in detail about the courses and register for them in just one click. The site also includes a photo gallery, calendar of events, and information about the different professors.

Dynamic Advertising and Design, located in Smithville, is a full service agency specializing in the latest technologies - digital signage, in-house TV networks, e-marketing, website development, voice over work, podcasts and cutting edge creative design. Founded in 2004, the company serves as the primary multimedia provider for several of Atlantic City's Casino properties and other local organizations.
